THE SILVER PARTY CONVENTION.

The State Convention of the Silver party, which convened at Elko, was composed of representative men from all parts of Nevada. Numerically and intellectually it compared favorably with any political convention ever held in Nevada. All were actuated by one motive, that of uniting all factions and forces in solid phalanx against the gold standard and foreign domination. A conference committee composed of one member from each county in the State was appointed to extend the olive branch to and meet with any committee from other political organizations with a view of effecting fusion. This committee met with a similar one appointed by the United Democracy and through its Chairman, Judge Cheney, reported an agreement which was adopted by the Convention.

A platform of principles was adopted which commends itself to every citizen of Nevada who believes in the financial independence of the country. It affirms allegiance to the essential principles of American independence, justice and liberty, namely, freedom of speech, freedom of press, freedom of conscience, the preservation of personal rights, and the equality of all citizens before the law. It pledges earnest and active support to William Jennings Bryan and demands the restoration of silver to the place accorded it by the founders of the Government. It is opposed to bond issues in time of peace, and demands the abolition of national banks and the direct issuance of all money by the Government. It demands the collection of railroad indebtedness as the debt matures, the government ownership of railroad and telegraph lines and the enforcement of the Interstate Commerce Act. It demands the exclusion of "foreign" paupers, criminals and contract labor, and pledges support to our public schools and State University. It invites the cooperation of all silver men and pledges the electoral vote of the State to Thomas E. Watson, should the contest for the Vice Presidency be between him and Garret A. Hobart, the nominee of the gold syndicate. It condemns the hypocrisy of the Republican machine in this State which declared for free coinage, heretofore and now declares against it. It approves the bill relating to contempt of court passed by the Senate and now pending in the House, and it endorses the action of the Commissioner of Pensions regarding the claims of union soldiers for pensions. It demands an increase in the volume of money and the improvement of waterways and trunk railways to secure cheap transportation to interior States. It denounces bartering in the elective franchise, favors the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people, recognizes the able and efficient services of Senators Jones and Stewart and Representative Newlands in behalf of all interests that promote our welfare and favors the re-election of Senator John P. Jones. It opposes any and all efforts to disorganize the Silver party until the object for which it was organized—the complete reorganization of silver is accomplished.

Upon this platform it nominated Hon. Francis G. Newlands of Washoe for Representative in Congress, Hon. W. A. Massey of Elko for Justice of the Supreme Court, Hon. C. H. E. Hardin of Humboldt for Lieutenant Governor, Mr. J. N. Evans of Washoe and Mr. E. S. Starrett of Lander for Regents of the State University, and Messrs. B. F. Leete of Washoe, J. R. Ryan of Storey, and George Russell of Elko for Presidential electors.

Mr. Newlands has made a record in Congress to which he can point with honest pride. His speeches, his votes and his actions will bear the closest scrutiny. They are unassailable and being so require no defense. He has faithfully attended to every interest of his constituents. The crippled veteran who had a just claim on the Government never appealed to him in vain to present his case. A community cut off from communication from the outside world had its claims for mail service ably advocated before the proper authorities by Mr. Newlands. To-day urgent requests are made upon him for active service in the doubtful States, and the anomaly is presented of the head of the Populist National Committee demanding his services in the East while the tail of the party here in Nevada is, according to common report, conspiring with the gold men to prevent his return to Congress. No charge of unfaithfulness to the people is made against him, because it could not be substantiated, but a covert attempt is made to defeat him by men who assume to be for free coinage for no other purpose than to better serve the gold trust.

Mr. Massey, the nominee for Supreme Judge, is a lawyer of repute and though the charge of youth is made against him he is an older man than that matchless statesman William Jennings Bryan. He practiced law in Indiana ten years ago and in this State since 1887.

Mr. Hardin, the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, is engaged in stock raising. He served in the Legislature in 1883 and made a creditable record.

Mr. Evans is one of the oldest residents in Nevada. He takes an active interest in University affairs and being a successful business man will make an efficient member of the Board of Regents.

Mr. Starrett is a member of the present Board of Regents and the fact that he faithfully performed his duty should entitle him to re-election to an office without salary or emoluments.

THE AUSTRALIAN BALLOT.

The Australian Ballot law or a modified form of it is in force in forty of the forty-five States of the Union. These are Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wyoming.

The States which adhere to the old method of voting are Delaware, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

The Australian ballot is an insurmountable obstacle in Mr. Hanna's road to the White House. He has abundance of money at his command and there are millions in the corruption fund. He is prepared to purchase votes, but as the men who make the elective franchise a merchantable commodity cannot be trusted he fears that his millions will not avail and that men will vote according to their convictions. That Mr. Hanna knows, will defeat his candidate and he is much perturbed in spirit.

Winthrop's Defense.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 10.—Oliver W. Winthrop began his defense to-day on the charge of assault and robbery growing out of his alleged attempt to abduct James Campbell, a millionaire planter of Hawaii. No opening statement was made by the defense, but several witnesses were examined as part of an effort to prove an alibi. J. G. Carols testified that he met Winthrop on the night of August 3 at 9 o'clock on Geary and Steiner streets. George T. Phelps, supposed to be the mysterious "Pete," Winthrop's alleged accomplice, and Joseph Nounan, testified that they attended lodge with Winthrop on the night of August 3, parting with him at 11 o'clock.

Coloradoans Solid.

DENVER, September 10.—The joint conference of the committees of the Democratic, People's, Republican and Silver parties is meeting in this city to-day for the purpose of arranging a fusion on State officers. The session is secret. The indications are that a joint ticket will be put out by the Democrats, Populists and Silverites and that the Republicans will have an independent ticket. The Democratic electoral ticket has been endorsed by the Republican, Populist and Silver Conventions, insuring a solid front for Bryan and Sewall, whatever the outcome of the attempt to secure a fusion of the Silver State ticket.

Texas Republicans.

FORT WORTH, Tex., September 10.—The Republican State Convention to-day appointed a committee of three, with plenary power, to confer with a similar committee of gold standard Democrats and Populists for an amicable division of Congressmen. The Populists are enthusiastic over the matter, and coalition is already practically arranged.

Prominent German Dead.

The Populists and Republicans are arranging for fusion in Texas. The "middle-of-the-road" men appear to be McKinley men in disguise.

Don't Blot Your Letters.

"My oldest daughter tells me," said Mr. Glanville, "that it is not good form to blot a letter, and when I ask her what I shall do when I get to the bottom of the page and want to turn to the next, she says I must wait for the ink to dry, though I may, if I wish, save time by addressing the envelope meanwhile."

Here, as is usually the case, good form is in accordance with good sense. A blotted page is not uniform in appearance. More ink is taken from the lower, the more freshly written part, than from the more neatly dry writing above, and so the writing upon the lower part of the page is paler and for that reason it is less legible. The blotting may thus be a cause of inconvenience to the recipient of the letter. His taste may be offended by a want of uniformity, of harmony in its appearance, and the fact that the letter has been blotted, that the writer has hurried to get through his task, may wound his pride. So we mustn't blot our letters—that is, our private letters—but by common consent the use of blotting paper is still permissible in business correspondence.—New York Sun.

Green Salt.

In Lapland they have no salt, and the bark of the fir tree is used in its place. The Lapps peel the bark from the trunk of the tree, carefully remove the epidermis, and then divide the inner bark into quite a number of very thin layers.

During the brief but extremely hot Lapland summer the layers are exposed to the sun until thoroughly dried; then they are torn into narrow strips and placed in boxes made of fresh bark taken from other trees. Deep holes are then dug in the sand, and the bark boxes are buried in them, where they are allowed to remain for about three days.

The second day fires are made over pieces where the boxes are buried and kept burning busily for several hours. The heat penetrates deep into the sand, turning the fir bark a deep red color and gives it a pleasing taste and odor. Finally the boxes are unearthed, the fir strips are pounded or ground into a coarse powder, and the Lapps use it just as we do salt, only much more sparingly, because it is so troublesome to prepare.—Philadelphia Times.

The human soul is like a bird that is born in a cage. Nothing can deprive it of its natural freedom or obliterate the yearning for the freedom of its heritage.—Lepes Sargent.

MEXICO, September 10.—The credit of banking the $100,000,000 of gold bullion to be coined by the U. S. is deposited $2,276 72.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the human body, the many physical ills which result from improper eating—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are also to the fact that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is there—always, in order to get its beneficial effects, to tone violent griping, chills, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives are not needed, but if in need of a laxative, or should have the best and most reliable, well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

A Full Ticket Nominated Without Contest.

The Republican State Convention assembled at the Carson Opera House at 11 A. M., and was called to order by R. K. Colcord, Chairman of the State Central Committee. The various counties of the State were fully represented, nearly all the proxies being from the eastern section.

S. Summerfield was chosen Temporary Chairman, and E. D. Vanderleith Temporary Secretary.

The usual Committees on Credentials, Permanent Organization and Order of Business and Platform and Resolutions were selected, and recess taken till 1:30 P. M.

At 2:45 the convention reassembled, the reports of committees were read and adopted, the temporary officers being made permanent.

The platform indorses the St. Louis National platform, with McKinley and Hobart for President and Vice President; denounces free trade alliances with England, and favors an ample protective tariff; protests against the election of non-residents to represent Nevada in the United States Senate and Congress at Washington; commends the purity of election law; public school funds shall not be used for the support of private or sectarian schools; international differences should be settled by arbitration.

A plank relative to the funding of the Central Pacific Railroad indebtedness was read and rejected by a vote of 49 to 87.

The silver plank adopted reads as follows: The free coinage of silver by international agreement would satisfactorily adjust the monetary relations between the precious metals. As a feasible measure to lead to an international agreement to the free coinage of silver, to the promotion of which the National Republican party is firmly pledged by its platform, we declare ourselves in favor of the free coinage of the silver product of the American mines at the ratio of 16 to 1 and of accompanying legislation imposing a prohibitive duty upon foreign silver bullion and coins, and a discriminating tariff schedule against all imports from gold standard countries until an agreement shall be effected between the great commercial nations providing for the free coinage of the precious metals or until it shall be practically demonstrated that the volume of coined silver of American production can no longer be increased and maintained in circulation upon an equality in business transactions with our other forms of national currency.

A State Central Committee was chosen.

For Presidential Electors, A. C. Bragg and Dr. J. A. Lewis of Washoe and Z. Pierce of Lyon were chosen, with D. A. Bender of Ormsby, F. J. Burton of Humboldt and J. D. Wines of Elko as Alternates.

For Congressmen, Dr. M. J. Davis of White Pine was nominated by acclamation.

For Lieutenant Governor, Col. Jerry Moore of Elko was nominated by acclamation.

For Justice of the Supreme Court, M. A. Murphy was nominated by acclamation.

For Regents of the State University, long term, J. M. Pulton of Reno, and Professor McDermitt of Empire, short term, were nominated by acclamation.

On motion, the disbursing committee of five, under the Purify of Elections law, to regulate the election accounts of all candidates and see that they don't spend any more money for whisky and things than the law allows in their canvass, was left to be selected by the Chairman of the State Central Committee.

At 6 P. M., with the usual grand burrah war whoop the Convention adjourned sine die and all hands went home satisfied. ALF DOTEN.

AUSTIN NOTES.

Bryan and Sewall Club Organized—A Generous Gift.

We now have a Bryan and Sewall Club. On last Saturday evening a mass meeting was held at the International Hall for the purpose of organizing a Bryan and Sewall Club. Hon. J. T. Bell, of Nye, addressed the audience on the great issue of the day. His speech was a short one, but full of life and enthusiasm and downright irrefutable logic.

At the close of his address the enthusiastic crowd were organized into the Bryan and Sewall Club of Austin with following officers: President, W. C. Gayhart; Vice-President, S. A. Orescenzo; Secretary, M. D. Murphy; Treasurer, Wm. Easton. The club will meet weekly, and such funds as it may raise will be sent to help the cause of silver in the East.

The public schools of Austin opened on the first instant, all of the old teachers being retained for another year.

Anson Phelps Stokes of New York recently purchased a building in Austin and placed the property in the hands of a Board of Trustees, adding his check for $1,000, all to be converted into a public library for the town. The gift is most highly appreciated by the people.

Austin, Nev., September 9, 1896.

Attention, Democrats!

"Hon. Francis G. Newlands, Reno, Nev.—DEAR SIR: We would like your best speech on the money question, or at least extracts from it, to circulate in this campaign. Please indicate by return mail what speech of yours you think best for the purpose."

"Please give us the situation in your State and what you think of the chances of the Bryan electoral ticket."

"Could you make any speeches for the National Committee, and, if so, indicate what time you could give us and what terms."

"Prospects here are brightening every day. There has never been such an awakening in this country among the common people. Already we can depend on a solid South and a solid West. The battle is moving eastward, through Iowa, Illinois and Indiana, and before the campaign is closed it will have spread over Ohio and into New York. Every man who is interested in monetary reform must be ready to enter this fight at once and must resolve to give all his time and all his energy and all the means that he can spare from now until election day. Please let me hear from you at your earliest convenience. This is a common cause and not confined to party. Fraternally yours, J. A. ENGELSTON, "Secretary People's Party National Committee."

What do our rational Populist friends think of that? The National Committee of their party request Mr. Newlands to go East and make speeches. They say this is a common cause and not confined to party, yet the man they desire to go East and speak for Bryan is opposed here at home by persons who claim to be Bryan men. It is true that the opponents of Mr. Newlands are appealing to men's prejudices instead of to their reason to defeat him, and unfortunately some people's prejudices are stronger than their reasoning powers, but they have votes, nevertheless.

RECEIVES A REWARD.

Engineer Ingles Is Presented With Money and an Elegant Gold Watch.

Engineer Ingles has received recognition in being rewarded by the railroad company for his bravery in making a fight at the train hold-up a few nights ago. He was called before J. A. Fillmore, A. D. Wilder and other officers of the company and was presented with $250 in cash and a fine gold watch and chain inscribed as follows:

"To Mr. Edward F. Ingles, from the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, in recognition of his heroic conduct in saving his train from robbery September 5, 1896."

While Mr. Ingles is no doubt proud of the recognition given him nothing has been said about the fireman who perhaps did as much to save the train as the engineer, although the opportunity was not afforded him to kill a highwayman. He risked his life, however, and is certainly entitled to credit and a reasonable reward.

THE BRYAN AND SEWALL CLUBS CONSOLIDATE.

A Large and Enthusiastic Meeting and Many New Members Sign the Roll.

According to announcement the Bryan and Sewall Clubs held a joint meeting last night to consider the report on consolidation of the Committee of Conference appointed by the two clubs. There was a large attendance and a decided interest was manifested.

The report of the Committee on Conference was read and adopted unanimously. The committee reported as permanent officers of the club the following: President, A. E. Cheney; First Vice President, W. P. McLaughlin; Second Vice President, E. R. Dodge; Secretary, C. H. Stoddard; Treasurer, R. S. Osburn; Sergeant-at-Arms, F. C. Updyke.

As an Executive Committee Chas. Gulling, H. H. Beck, C. A. Norcross, Geo. H. Humphrey, Henry Ritter, S. Jacobs, J. B. Caine, E. D. Kelley, Geo. J. Smith, W. J. Lynch and C. A. Jones.

Upon taking the chair Judge Cheney addressed the club thanking the members kindly for the honor conferred. The Bryan Club started under the most favorable auspices, having a large membership and the entire business of the evening being harmonious. H. H. Beck, T. V. Julien and Frank Norcross addressed the club.

District Attorney Norcross made a rousing speech, giving his reasons in detail why he had left the Republican party. He said that he was a member of the Republican Committee on Platform and Resolutions two years ago that drafted and presented the financial plank that was adopted by the Republican State Convention. That up to the adjournment of the St. Louis Convention he had remained with that party hoping that their financial policy would be for the masses. He was disappointed and not only that, but disgusted with a party that within two years time so opposed its own declaration of principles. He and W. H. McInnis had carefully considered the matter, had talked it over, hoped against hope and that their action now was not a conversion of a few days or weeks, but the party they had been identified with had been untrue to its principles, untrue to the interests of the State of Nevada and her people, and that he now felt that he and his friend were without doubt justified in severing their connection with that party and asked permission to sign the roll of the Bryan Club.

Mr. Norcross was applauded at every point made and when he concluded the building fairly shook with applause.

It had been rumored that the McKinley and Hobart Club had issued a challenge to the Bryan Club to meet them in joint debate, but the Secretary upon being asked, said he had received no official notification.

Fadon's Originality.

Fadon's Originality. In his early days, when hunger and poverty were his constant associates, he evolved a most interesting method of studying the art of play-acting. Scribo was his model. At night, in a cheerless attic, by the light of a single candle procured by saving a son of a poor man's dinner, he used to study the plays of Scribo till he knew them word for word. It was his delight to take one of Scribo's plays that he had never read, study the first act, close the book and map out what he thought would be the best scene of the remaining acts. When finished he compared his work with the original, overjoyed if he hit upon a smaller scene or a more dramatic one. He is very painstaking with everything he writes.—New York Advertiser.

Gentle in a Boston Restaurant.

Boston culture sometimes crops out where one would hardly expect it. In a popular restaurant the other day, where the prices are moderate and the waiter girls pretty, a middle aged business man, well dressed and of genteel appearance, beckoned to a waitress, pointed to some open windows and said loudly:

"Can't you shut down one o' them windows?"

Whereupon the girl called to the head waiter:

"This gentleman wishes to know if you won't please close one of the windows."—Boston Transcript.

A Postery For the Church.

It is said that in Sweden a room in each house is provided into which the children may go to cry and scream. In other parts of the house they are to be quiet and mindful of the comfort of others. It might be a good plan to have a department in every church for those who feel like crying or fretting or complaining. Let them go to the cryery or postery and have it out without disturbing the comfort or spiritual welfare of the church and their brethren.—Christian Nation.

Rather Strange If True

It is reported that Dr. Davis, who was nominated for Congress at the Republican Convention at Carson yesterday, stated in Reno that he was the only Republican in White Pine county, that he was compelled to hold his own primaries, act as judge and elect himself as a delegate.

He also had some doubts as to his eligibility to the nomination by the convention under the home rule plank, owing to his short residence in the State.
